Objective

The Fund's objective is to seek to generate income while preserving investor capital by investing primarily in preferred securities of Canadian issuers that are listed on a Canadian stock exchange.

Manager's Monthly Commentary

The Series F units of the Lysander-Slater Preferred Share Dividend Fund (the "Fund") posted a return of 0.33% in June, outperforming the index by 4 bps. The Canadian 5-year bond fell slightly in June and finished the month at 2.06%. This was in large part due to trade tariff negotiations with the U.S and how the tariffs may affect the future Canadian economy. Recent positive GDP statistics suggests that the Bank of Canada could raise interest rates by a quarter of a percent in July. This would support our thesis that interest rates will slowly move higher over the next few years. TD Bank called two non-NVCC Preferred Shares (TD.PR.S and TD.PR.Y) that will be redeemed on July 31st. This could be a great opportunity to re-invest those proceeds into our Fund.
